

Vandra Rugs

Inspired by the iconic Malmstenbutiken in Stockholm, Pietra is a new rug collection designed by Ami Katz. Rooted in the shop's heritage, the design features a symmetrical chequered pattern with strategically deleted lines, offering a modern graphic touch in black and white. The collection, in various colorways, blends natural hues with a contemporary twist. Available in both an exclusive knotted pile or a röllakan version, Pietra seamlessly combines the old and new in interior design. During 3 Days of Design the Pietra collection is presented in several new colourways.

About Malmstenbutiken

Malmstenbutiken is an interior design store in Stockholm, founded by Carl Malmsten in 1930. Carl Malmsten is an important Swedish designer whose work is characterized by both simplicity and elegance. Malmstenbutiken has become a destination for design-lovers, offering Carl Malmsten's loved furniture and are exclusive distributors of the handmade lamp collection made by Carl Malmsten's great-grand child Vanja Sorbon Malmsten as well as a large range of interior design products.

The Pietra collection is available for purchase both through Malmstenbutiken and Vandra Rugs

About Vandra Rugs

Vandra Rugs' handmade rugs blend design and craftsmanship, using high-quality natural materials like cotton, wool-felt, wool-yarn, and linen. Since 2007, they have established a weaving atelier in Ukraine, where skilled weavers, trained in local traditions and by Swedish experts, bring a rich diversity to the collections.
